

JULY 2008

PILOT CAREERS

Most pilots are used to fielding questions from young people about how to get into a piloting career. There is an excellent article in this month's (July 2008) issue of Plane and Pilot that answers the question very well, and if it's been awhile since you learned to fly, you may find some surprises. If you can't find a copy of the magazine, I have the article in an Adobe PDF file that I would be happy to email you; just drop me a short note at: JeffryHill@sbcglobal.net. – Ed.

JUNE 14TH MEETING & YOUNG EAGLES

Ed Domski's discussion of his experiences as a B-24 navigator in WW II was a big hit with all. Ed is one of those interviewed in EAA's "Timeless Voices" project (see: <http://www.eaa.org/timelessvoices/>).

What an incredibly gorgeous day for flying: blue skies, sunny, however the winds were a bit much. An announcement for the Young Eagles Flights made the "Best Bets for the weekend" section in the NW Herald and flyers posted in McHenry and Woodstock made for a good turnout.

There were approximately 30 children and two parents that were flown between the hours of 11:30 and 4 PM by one pilot, Dave Spitzbart supported by computer operator Warren McDonald and ground coordinator Pam Hack,

Other members dug in and helped with other duties: John Roach set up a video in the FBO for the kids & parents to watch while they waited for their turn for the plane rides. Steve Mark pursued the photography element capturing (I'm sure) incredible moments on film. Greg Domski, John Roach, Ron Twinn and other members continued with the tent clean-up and all pieces were folded into canvas bags and put away. Thank you to Kevin on the am shift from the FBO for taking the initiative to assist with directing the kids to/from the airplane safely.

JUNE 1 VINTAGE AIRCRAFT FLY-IN PICNIC

"And what is so rare as a day in June?" Poet James Russell Lowell wrote about a perfect June day over one hundred years ago. But, I'm sure he was thinking about last June 1; the day of our third Vintage Fly-in Picnic. As the pictures show, it was a perfect day, in a perfect setting. More than thirty aircraft flew to Galt Field to celebrate the joy of flying. And more than sixty hungry aviators celebrated with tasty chicken and ribs. While the grass runway was closed and the aircraft parking was challenging due to wet areas, all was managed including a few flyovers and some off the cuff sky-writing. A great time was enjoyed by all and over $300 was contributed to help fund next year's EAA 923 Air Academy Scholarships. Next year's date looks like Sunday June 7, 2009. Mark it in your calendar.
